SunScreen Recall

Daffodil Enterprises Ltd and Brand Support Ltd are recalling batch B34072B EXP JUL 2010 of the Trigger Spray SPF30+. The recall is being carried out in accordance with the Consumer Affairs Product Recall Guidelines.

The reason for the recall is that Consumer New Zealand published results from tests they had done on the SPF of this batch of sunscreen. They differed markedly with our own test results and because of the conflict we have decided the most responsible thing to do, in the interim, is to recall the product. Intensive investigation is being undertaken into the testing regime used and the discrepancies.

You are advised to return your product to the retail store you purchased it from to receive a full refund.

You can also print out the return form below and return with the product, to:

Brand Support
Head Office
43 Honan Place
Avondale
Auckland
New Zealand

You will be sent a refund for the product and the postage.

NO OTHER CANCER SOCIETY PRODUCTS ARE BEING RECALLED.

Please be assured the Cancer Society is doing all it can to make this recall as easy as possible for everyone.
